I was trained to be more initiative and friendly when deal with the customers in order to let them feel satisfied and have a great time while choosing their clothes.I learnt being able to work in a packed and pressure environment, fulfilled with numerous products.As a Sales Promoter, I have been paying lot of effort in order to hit the sales target efficiently. In addition, we were requested to arrange the "products" (clothes) in a proper way which made me to be more organised and considerate.
